B. Factual Background

Plaintiff is Federally Recognized Indian Community located in Red Wing, Minnesota. In February of 1984, Plaintiff's casino opened its doors for the first time under the name PRAIRIE ISLAND BINGO PARLOR. In December of 1988, Plaintiff changed its name to ISLAND BINGO, and operated under this mark from then, December of 1988, through December 31 of 1989. In January of 1990, Plaintiff began offering casino services under the mark TREASURE ISLAND. As stated by Cindy Flemke, administrative assistant to Plaintiff's general manager:

Q. Can you tell me, as of January 19, 1990, to the best of your recollection, can you tell me what games were available at Treasure Island?

A. When we opened in January 19th of 1990, the games that were available were bingo, pull tabs, table games of Bingo Let and Bingo 21, they had -- and video slot machines --.

Flemke testimony, pg. 22.

During her testimony, Ms. Flemke discussed certain materials which evidence early uses of the TREASURE ISLAND mark by Plaintiff. Attached Exhibit 13 is a January 1990 promotional piece indicating that Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND establishment, with its "expanded Vegas style casino with over 100 different video games & exciting new table games" was open for business and offering casino services as of the January 19, 1990 date. Exhibit 14 is a February 1990 calendar distributed by Plaintiff in connection with its TREASURE ISLAND casino establishment, with an indication that the casino was "open seven days" a week. Exhibit 15 are copies of early newspaper advertisements, including a March 15, 1990 advertisement, for Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND casino. Exhibit 16 constitutes further promotional materials relevant to Plaintiff's casino services offered under the TREASURE ISLAND mark during the 1990 - 1992 timeframe. Exhibit 17 is Plaintiff's Minnesota State Service Mark Registration which sets forth January 1, 1990 as the date upon which Plaintiff first began promoting its casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND mark. Plaintiff was closed between the dates of January 1 and January 19 of 1990, but it was on this date, January 1, 1990, that Plaintiff adopted the name TREASURE ISLAND. Exhibit 18 constitutes further promotional materials relevant to Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND casino, generated during the 1990's. Exhibit 19 is a current promotional piece.

With regard to the Exhibit 13-17 materials, all of these materials indisputably pre-date the filing dates of each and every one of Defendant's applications which matured into the registrations at issue here, as well as the application at issue in the '866 Opposition: it was on July 23, 1993, over three and a half years after Plaintiff began offering its casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND mark, that the first applications which led to several of the registrations at issue here were filed by Defendant with the Trademark Office. Further, much of the Exhibit 13-17 materials indisputably pre-date the date upon which Defendant even first publicly stated its intention to open a casino to be known as TREASURE ISLAND. The first public announcement of Defendant's plan to open up a casino under the name TREASURE ISLAND did not occur until Tuesday, October 29, 1991, nearly two years after Plaintiff began its use of the TREASURE ISLAND mark. See Exhibit 20, an article out of the Los Angeles Times dated October 30, 1991 which states as follows:

Mirage Resorts, Inc. said Tuesday that it will build a $300-million dollar family oriented themed resort in Las Vegas escalating the fight for family business in the Nevada gaming and adult entertainment oasis.

The Las Vegas-based company which owns the Golden Nugget casinos in Las Vegas and Laughlin, Nev. said its latest mega-casino - to be called Treasure Island - will have 3,000 guest rooms and will be located adjacent to the Mirage, the firms flagship casino and resort.

Emphasis added.

Thus, to recap, it is undisputed that Plaintiff first offered its casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND mark during January of 1990. See Exhibit 13. Defendant, on the other hand, first announced its plans to offer casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND mark in October of 1991, first applied for registrations of the TREASURE ISLAND marks in July of 1993, and first offered the casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE mark in October of 1993.

There are, of course, a wide variety of goods and services at issue in Defendant's application and registrations. All of these goods and services, however, directly relate to one aspect of Defendant's business: its casino. That is, as concerns Defendant and its operations, it is the TREASURE ISLAND casino services which constitute the "straw that stirs the drink" so to speak. While these casino services will be the main focus of the discussion contained herein, all aspects of Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND usages at issue in these proceedings will be addressed.

Judgments have already been entered in Plaintiff's favor relevant to several proceedings which had been part of this consolidated action. In particular, this Board issued an Order on January 31, 2005 entering judgment in Plaintiff's favor on the issues of priority of use and likelihood of confusion relevant to Cancellation Nos. 92028127 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, U. S. Reg. No. 1,955,279, Exhibit 21); 92028174 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT, U. S. Reg.

The judgments which have been entered against Defendant establish, in Plaintiff's favor, the existence of likelihood of confusion and priority relevant to, for example, the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT (cancelled U.S. Reg. No. 1,981,369, Exhibit 22). As will be discussed below, the established existence of (a) a likelihood of confusion as between Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND-based marks and Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark; and (b) a priority in Plaintiff's favor, all in connection with the cancelled registrations, establish those two issues in Plaintiff's favor relevant to several of the remaining proceedings.

II. DISCUSSION

A. Likelihood of Confusion Analysis

1. Cancellation Nos. 92028126 (on the Mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028130 (on the Mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028155 (on the Mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT), and 92028171 (on the Mark TREASURE ISLAND)

These registrations involve casino services. Copies of these registrations are attached hereto as Exhibits 2-3 and 5-6.

Each and every one of the marks at issue are dominated by the words TREASURE ISLAND. Throughout this entire proceeding, Defendant has fully admitted that the dominant feature of its "Treasure Island" marks are, just that, TREASURE ISLAND.

Defendant's admission that the TREASURE ISLAND portion of its mark dominates the mark as a whole is both proper and to be expected. For one thing, "it is often the first part of a mark which is most likely to be impressed upon the mind of a purchaser and remembered". Presto Products, Inc. v. Nice-Pak Products, Inc., 9 USPQ 2d 1895 (TTAB 1988). Furthermore, those portions of Defendant's marks consisting of the words "AT THE MIRAGE", merely serve to indicate where the establishment at issue, TREASURE ISLAND, is: TREASURE ISLAND is located "at the Mirage", hotel casino complex in Las Vegas. The "AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT" portion of the '155 Registration merely serves to indicate the location of Defendant's establishment, and to alert the potential market to the fact that it is supposedly an "adventure resort".

This Board has held that "although the marks at issue must be considered in their entireties, it is well-settled that one feature of a mark may be more significant than another, and it is not improper to give more weight to this dominant feature in determining the commercial impression created by the mark". In re

Continental Graphics Corp., 52 USPQ 2d 1374, 1375-76 (TTAB 1999).

Given Defendant's admissions and the nature of the registered marks, this Board should, it is contended, give more weight to the dominant feature of Defendant's marks: TREASURE ISLAND.

Proof of the fact that TREASURE ISLAND dominates Defendant's marks are found in the very documents submitted by the Defendant to the Patent and Trademark Office during the registration process and in connection with post-registration documents filed relevant to these registrations. For example, the specimen submitted by Defendant as part of its statement of use relevant to the '396 Registration in February of 1996 includes the following items: "Treasure Island" used as a stand alone mark on the front of the submitted "Gaming Guide"; the statement "Welcome to Treasure Island. This guide is an introduction to the Treasure Island Casino..." in the "Welcome" portion of this item; information indicating that slot machine bonus points may "be redeemed for cash or goods and services in any outlet at Treasure Island or the Mirage"; an indication that "[a]t Treasure Island, change service for slot play is as close as the nearest slot machine"; and an indication that "Treasure Island also offers several exclusive slot programs...". See Exhibit 26.

In connection with it's November 2001 Section 8 Affidavit relevant to the '396 Registration, a piece was submitted which invites casino patrons to "sample one of Treasure Island's unique concoctions at (Swashbuckler's Bar)"; a statement that tickets for a theater performance "are available at Treasure Island Ticket Office..."; that "Treasure Island has gift certificates available at guest services..."; and that "Treasure Island logo merchandise is available at the Buccaneer Shoppe". Further, as can be seen from the last page of this Exhibit, Defendant's internet address is www.treasureisland.com. See Exhibit 27.

Plaintiff strongly contends that the entire Du Pont analysis needs to be undertaken with one eye toward the fact that the TREASURE ISLAND portion of Defendant's marks dominate the marks as a whole. This fact has not only been admitted by Defendant, but, as well, is established by the undisputed facts.

2. Du Pont Factors

As the Board is well aware, a variety of factors are analyzed in the cancellation setting in order to determine whether or not a likelihood of confusion is present as between marks. The factors to be analyzed are, of course, known as the Du Pont factors. The Du Pont factors relevant to the instant situation are discussed below.

a. The Similarity of the Marks in their Entireties as to Appearance, Sound, Connotation and Commercial Impression

(i) Appearance Factor

Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark and Defendant's casino-services related TREASURE ISLAND marks are confusingly similar in appearance. Both Plaintiff's marks and Defendant's marks incorporate the operative words TREASURE ISLAND, and while certain of Defendant's marks also incorporate the informative phrases such as "at the Mirage" or "at the Mirage the adventure resort", this language merely describes where TREASURE ISLAND is geographically located ("at the Mirage" complex) or what TREASURE ISLAND wishes to tout itself as (an "adventure resort"). Furthermore, as discussed in detail above, Defendant fully admits that the dominant feature of its mark is, in fact, TREASURE ISLAND.

Two of the TREASURE ISLAND casino-services marks incorporate design features: the '380 mark and the '770 mark. As a general rule, "when a mark consists of a word and design, it is the word feature rather than the design which is more likely to be impressed upon a purchaser's memory and to be utilized in calling for and identifying the services. Therefore, the word is controlling in determining a likelihood of confusion (citing cases)". Amoco Oil Co. v. Amerco, Inc., 192 U.S.P.Q. 729, 735 (TTAB 1976). In the instant situation, the dominating word portions of the marks at issue are all identical: TREASURE ISLAND. In this respect, the marks are identical.

Plaintiff's mark is identical in appearance with the dominating portion of Defendant's marks: TREASURE ISLAND. The Du Pont "appearance factor" clearly weighs toward finding a likelihood of confusion.

(ii) Sound Factor

The marks at issue are confusingly similar as concerns the Du Pont "sound" factor as well. The dominating portion of Defendant's marks, TREASURE ISLAND, is identical to Plaintiff's mark, TREASURE ISLAND, and therefore a finding of likelihood of confusion is supported with regard to this factor.

(iii) Connotation and Commercial Impression

The marks at issue connote the same thing, namely, TREASURE ISLAND. While certain of Defendant's marks also contain the phrase "at the Mirage", or "at the Mirage the Adventure Resort", these phrases merely serve to inform the relevant market that the casino known as Treasure Island is located "at the Mirage" or is supposedly an "adventure resort". Plaintiff's mark, TREASURE ISLAND, is identical to the dominating portion of Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND marks, meaning that the entirety of Plaintiff's mark and the dominating portion of the Defendant's marks create the identical connotation and commercial impression.

(iv) Conclusion Regarding First Du Pont Factor

The marks at issue in this proceeding are confusingly similar in appearance, sound, connotation and commercial impression. In fact, the dominating portion of Defendant's registered marks are identical to Plaintiff's mark in these regards. As such, this factor weighs heavily in Plaintiff's favor.

b. Similarity in the Nature of the Services at Issue

Defendant's registrations cover casino services. Plaintiff uses the mark TREASURE ISLAND in connection with identical services: casino services. The rule to be applied in this situation is that "as the degree of similarity of the goods of the parties increases, 'the degree of similarity [of the marks] necessary to support a conclusion of likely confusion declines'". Fossil, Inc. v. Fossil Group, 49 USPQ 2d 1451 (TTAB 1998), quoting Century 21 Real Estate Corp. v. Century Life of America, 970 F. 2d 874 (Fed. Cir. 1992). See also Hard Rock Cafe International (U.S.A.), Inc. v. Elsea, 56, USPQ 2d 1504 (TTAB 2000) which states that "[w]hen marks would appear on virtually identical goods or services, the degree of similarity necessary to support a conclusion of likely confusion declines". Here, the marks at issue are, beyond doubt, confusingly similar with regard to sight, sound, connotation, and impression. As discussed above, in fact, the dominating portion of Defendant's marks, the TREASURE ISLAND portion, is identical to Plaintiff's mark. "If the marks are very similar, it is 'only necessary that there be a viable relationship between the goods or services in order to support a holding of a likelihood of confusion'". 3 J. McCarthy, McCarthy on Trademarks and Unfair Competition, §23:20.1 (4th ed. 2002), citing In re Concordia International Forwarding Corp., 222 USPQ 355 (TTAB 1983). Here, the marks at issue are, obviously, "very similar". Additionally, far beyond there being merely a "viable relationship between the goods and services", the goods and services are identical. All of this leads to one inescapable conclusion: a likelihood of confusion is undoubtedly present.

c. Channels of Trade

There are no restrictions whatsoever placed on the channels of trade relevant to Defendant's registrations. Defendant's services are simply called out as "casino services". Plaintiff's services are, as discussed above, identical. The relevant services of both parties are marketed to the identical class of consumer: those who enjoy gambling, and therefore take advantage of casino services. Such individuals are simply members of the general public. Highly sophisticated goods and services geared toward a sophisticated purchaser of such goods and services are certainly not at issue here. This Du Pont Factor weights in Plaintiff's favor, and further supports a finding of likely confusion.

d. Fame of the Prior Mark Factor

As discussed above, Plaintiff's mark has been in use since January of 1990, and was in use for over eight years before the instant proceedings were instituted. Plaintiff has expended significant sums relevant to advertising, theme development, and general promotion. For example, Plaintiff has advertised on dozens of different radio stations in several states, and on 20 television stations. In addition, Plaintiff's mark has received national exposure by virtue of its indoor image advertising at the Target Center in Minneapolis, Minnesota (home to the professional basketball team known as the Minnesota Timberwolves), the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome (home to the professional baseball team known as the Minnesota Twins and the professional football team known as the Minnesota Vikings), and the River Center (home to the professional hockey team known as the Minnesota Wild).

Additionally, Plaintiff's mark has been published in innumerable newspapers and magazines around the country. Plaintiff's mark has also been used in connection with direct mail programs, has been placed in various yellow pages, and has been the subject of indoor and outdoor advertising, coordinated through advertising companies.

Plaintiff has employed several other modes of promoting its services under the relevant mark as well. Plaintiff's mark has become quite well known over the years and therefore this Du Pont factor weighs in its favor.

e. Number and Nature of Similar Marks in Use in Connection with Similar Services

Plaintiff and Defendant are the only known users of the TREASURE ISLAND mark in connection with casino services within the United States. In other words, there are no known similar marks being used in connection with similar services. This, as with all of the other Du Pont factors discussed, supports a finding of likelihood of confusion. Clearly, Plaintiff's mark is strong.

f. Actual Confusion

As a rule, "[a] showing of actual confusion would of course be highly probative, if not conclusive, of a high likelihood of confusion." In re Majestic Distilling Company, Inc., 315 F. 3d 1311, 1317 (Fed. Cir. 2003). In the instant situation, actual confusion is rampant. Attached hereto as Exhibit 28 is a "call tracking summary" created by Plaintiff's tour department from March of 1999 indicating that between January of 1997 and February of 1999 260 individuals had phoned Plaintiff's place of business believing that they were phoning Defendant's place of business.

Exhibit 29 evidences 300 misdirected calls, received by Plaintiff, meant for Defendant, between August of 1997 and August of 1999. As for Exhibit 29, each occurrence is set out in column form.

Exhibit 30 constitutes documents evidencing 393 different instances of confusion relevant to misdirected phone calls mistakenly placed to Plaintiff's place of business between January of 1998 and July of 2002. Further evidence of misdirected phone calls, received by Plaintiff and meant for Defendant, are to be found at Knapp testimony Exhibits 40 and 42.

Exhibit 31 constitutes further evidence of core confusion. Exhibit 31 are "Reservations Desk-Wrong Treasure Island" information sheets generated by individuals working at the reservation's desk at Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND establishment. These information sheets evidence instances of individuals contacting the front desk at Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND believing they were contacting Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND.

Exhibit 32 are emails received by Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND meant for Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND.

Exhibit 33 evidences various other instances of confusion, including evidence of an individual forwarding a Treasure Island Las Vegas Reservation form to Plaintiff, evidence of an individual who had thought he had booked a room at Treasure Island in Las Vegas when in fact he had mistakenly booked a room at Plaintiff's Treasure Island, and a request for a room at TREASURE ISLAND, which request was sent to Plaintiff instead of the intended recipient, Defendant. Exhibit 33 also contains an email to Joe Halloran from Laurie Knapp recounting one of the multitude of phone calls Plaintiff has received when the caller meant to be phoning Defendant.

In addition to the above, and ironically, Defendant has, in fact, expressed anger and concern with regard to Plaintiff's use of the mark TREASURE ISLAND to promote its, Plaintiff's, services. In particular, Delores Knapp testified that one time while in Las Vegas she stayed at Defendant's Treasure Island. While checking in she told the front desk agent that she was with Treasure Island in Red Wing, Minnesota, Plaintiff's Treasure Island. The check-in agent indicated to Ms. Knapp that "we hate you" and that she had "almost lost (her) job because of you guys". During this same trip, Ms. Knapp met with Morton Scumsrude, the front office manager at Defendant's Treasure Island casino. Mr. Scumsrude confirmed that confusion occurs on the Las Vegas side as well. See generally Knapp testimony at pgs. 26-30.

This Board should know that the enclosed documents are but a sampling of the evidence of which exists relevant to actual confusion. In fact, as stated above, actual confusion is rampant, continuing, and will continue for as long as Defendant uses its confusingly similar designation in connection with goods and services identical to those offered by Plaintiff.

Actual confusion is perhaps the best evidence of a likelihood of confusion. Here, the fact of actual confusion is firmly established. This factor weighs strongly in Plaintiff's favor, and undoubtedly establishes a likelihood of confusion.

g. Variety of Goods on Which the Marks are or are not Used Attached Exhibit 34 is a list compiled by Plaintiff indicating the variety of goods and services on which its TREASURE ISLAND mark is used. As can be seen, Plaintiff uses its mark on a whole litany of items. As discussed early in this memorandum, several other registrations and uses of the TREASURE ISLAND mark by the parties are at issue in this consolidated proceeding. These registrations, as well as discovery taken to date, firmly establishes that above and beyond casino services, the parties are also using the identical mark on and in connection with things such as restaurants, clothing, jewelry, and glass wear, to name but a few. In other words, each party is selling and promoting numerous goods and services identical to those offered by the other under the confusingly similar marks. This Du Pont factor weighs heavily in Plaintiff's favor.

h. Conclusion Regarding Casino Services

Based on the above, Plaintiff has firmly established that there is a likelihood of confusion as between its TREASURE ISLAND mark as used in connection with casino services, and those registrations owned by Defendant at issue in this consolidated proceeding which concern casino services. Based on the above, this Honorable Board should hold in favor of Plaintiff on the issues of likelihood of confusion and priority, and order that Registration Nos. 1,949,380; 2,010,396; 2,024,221; and 2,040,770 be cancelled.

3. Cancellation Nos. 92028145 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028342 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE) and Opposition No. 91115866 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND)

These registrations and application involve hotel services. Copies of these registrations are attached hereto as Exhibits 1, 4, and 9. Clearly, the hotel services are directly related to the casino services discussed above, and Plaintiff hereby incorporates that portion of its brief into this discussion.

As discussed early on in this brief, Plaintiff has offered casino services under the TREASURE ISLAND mark since January of 1990. In December of 1996, Plaintiff opened an on-site hotel at its TREASURE ISLAND facility. Information regarding this hotel is set forth in the Exhibit 19 promotional piece. Before its on-site hotel was in existence, Plaintiff, under the TREASURE ISLAND mark, would arrange for lodging at hotels near the casino facility. See, for example, Exhibit 34 which constitutes promotional materials distributed by Plaintiff promoting the fact that hotel packages were available. See also Flemke testimony at pgs. 89-92.

Thus, Plaintiff has been offering lodging services since it opened its facility in January of 1990, even if those lodging services, up through 1996, were in the form of arranging for hotels and the like for patrons of Plaintiff's casino, as opposed to offering rooms at Treasure Island.

Additionally, hotel services and casino services are directly related, one to the other. In fact, the two sets of services "compliment" each other in that casinos, traditionally, have offered lodging services for its patrons. Plaintiff has been offering its casino services since January of 1990. As discussed extensively above, Plaintiff's casino services predate any use by Defendant of the TREASURE ISLAND mark in connection with casino or hotel services of any sort by a period of years.

The Du Pont analysis set forth above relevant to the casino services offered by the respective parties applies equally to the lodging and hotel services offered by the respective parties. Furthermore Plaintiff notes the clear relationship between its casino services offered under the mark TREASURE ISLAND since 1990 and Defendant's use of the TREASURE ISLAND-related marks in connection with the wholly related hotel services since 1993. Plaintiff's priority is clear.

4. Cancellation Nos. 92028248 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028280 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028379 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE), 92028199 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE) and 92028294 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE)

These registrations involve clothing, plastic and glass drinking vessels, glasses and mugs, refrigerator magnets and ashtrays. Copies of these registrations are attached hereto as Exhibits 7, 8, and 10-12.

The relevant goods at issue in these registrations are all corollary to and directly related to Defendant's casino services. That is, the goods covered by these registrations are sold by Defendant at, for example, gift shops located at Defendant's casino.

Plaintiff, as well, sells a variety of goods bearing the mark TREASURE ISLAND, and has so for years. Attached Exhibit 35 sets forth in a detailed fashion the dates upon which Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark was first used on and in connection with a variety of items sold and marketed by Plaintiff at its casino. Also contained within Exhibit 35 are receipts, purchase orders and the like evidencing orders placed by Plaintiff for the relevant TREASURE ISLAND goods.

Plaintiff has been selling its casino-related goods since 1991. These goods include the very sorts of things called out in Defendant's registrations: clothing items, mugs and glasses, ashtrays, and magnets. See Exhibit 35.

Plaintiff has a priority over Defendant in connection with sales of the relevant goods bearing the TREASURE ISLAND mark. Furthermore, these goods in the case of both Plaintiff and Defendant, are directly tied to the casino services which, as discussed extensively above, Plaintiff has been offering under the mark TREASURE ISLAND since January of 1990. The goods at issue in the registrations cited above, as with the hotel services discussed above, are intricately tied to and "controlled by" the casino services which are at the forefront of all of Plaintiff's and Defendant's services.

Plaintiff has a priority over Defendant with regard to the TREASURE ISLAND related goods at issue in the registrations noted above.<sup>1</sup> At this juncture, Plaintiff need not go through the entire Du Pont analysis as concerns the relevant marks and goods at issue relevant to the registrations discussed in this section. This Board is well aware of the analysis to be undertaken, and with the fact that the TREASURE ISLAND portion of Defendant's marks dominate those marks, Plaintiff strongly contends that there is a likelihood of confusion as between its goods and services and the goods at issue in these registrations.

B. Prior Judgments

As discussed briefly above, judgment has been entered against Defendant as concerns Cancellation Nos. 92028127 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, U.S. Reg. No. 1,955,279, Exhibit 21); 92028174 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT, U.S. Reg. No. 1,981,369, Exhibit 22); 92028314 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, U.S. Reg. No. 1,903,619, Exhibit 23); 92028319 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, U.S. Reg. No. 1,943,123, Exhibit 24); and 92028325 (on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, U.S. Reg. No. 1,949,379,

<sup>1</sup> Plaintiff notes at this juncture that U.S. Reg. No. 1,918,033, on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE, has apparently gone abandoned. This mark was registered for use in connection with "clothing, namely, t-shirts, sweatshirts and jogging suits, jackets and caps in Class 25". The mark was registered on September 12, 1995, meaning that the 10 year plus 6 month grace period ran out on March 12, 2006.

Exhibit 25). In particular, judgment has been entered in Plaintiff's favor with regard to these Cancellation Proceedings on the issues of priority of use and likelihood of confusion. See January 31, 2005 Board Order at 10-11 entering judgment against Defendant and in Plaintiff's favor "in each case on the grounds originally pleaded, namely priority of use and likelihood of confusion. The cancellation of Registration Nos. 1955279, 1903619, 1943123, 1981369 and 1949379 therefore stands". Before judgment was entered in Plaintiff's favor relevant to the above proceedings, Defendant was given a full and fair opportunity to "show cause why the cancellation of the registrations (noted above) under Section 8 of the Trademark Act should not be deemed to be the equivalent of a cancellation by request of defendant without plaintiff's consent, and should not result in entry of judgment against defendant as provided by Trademark Rule 2.134(a)". January 31, 2005 Board Order at 1-2. Defendant fully argued its position to this Board, and its position was correctly rejected by this Board. As such, and as noted above, judgment was entered in Plaintiff's favor relevant to the noted Cancellation Proceedings.

Key to the present discussion, judgment was entered in Plaintiff's favor relevant to Cancellation Proceeding 92028174, on the word mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT, U.S. Reg. No. 1,981,369 (Exhibit 22). The '369 Registration covered "hotel services, in Class 42". Plaintiff's petition for cancellation relevant to this registration (Exhibit 36) specifically alleged a likelihood of confusion as between the '369 mark as used in connection with "hotel services" and Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark as used in connection with casino, hotel, restaurant and bar services.

The judgment rendered in the '174 Cancellation Proceeding (and, in fact, the other judgments) establishes a likelihood of confusion as between Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark, as used in connection with hotel, casino, and related services, and Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT mark as used in connection with hotel services. Furthermore, Plaintiff's priority of use is established. The doctrine of res judicata dictates that judgment be entered in Plaintiff's favor relevant to several of the remaining proceedings now at issue. In Miller Brewing Co. v. Coy International Corp., 230 U.S.P.Q. 675 (TTAB 1986) this Board, in discussing the concept of res judicata as it applies to judgments entered in prior proceedings, stated as follows:

In the present, as in the cases of Young Engineers and Chromalloy, supra, no issues were actually litigated in the prior proceeding. Applicant, in the prior opposition, simply abandoned the application without the consent of opposer and judgment was entered against applicant pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.135. Since no issue can be said to have been determined or precluded, if res judicata applies, it can only rest on the principles of claim preclusion. We must decide in this proceeding whether applicant's present "claim", that is, applicant's assertion in its application that it is entitled to the exclusive right to use its mark and, therefore, to secure a United States trademark registration, was merged into or barred by the judgment in the prior opposition. This depends on whether applicant is again asserting the same "claim". See: Chromalloy, supra, 222 U.S.P.Q. at 189.

Section 24 of the Restatement describes the claim as follows:

"(1) When a valid and final judgment rendered in an action extinguishes the plaintiff's claim pursuant to the rules of merger and bar (see §§ 18, 19), the claim extinguished includes all rights of the plaintiff to remedies against the defendant with respect to all or any part of the transaction, or series of connected transactions, out of which the action arose.

(2) What factual grouping constitutes a 'transaction', and what grouping constitutes a 'series', are to be determined pragmatically, giving weight to such considerations as whether the facts are related in time, space, origin or motivation, whether they form a convenient trial unit, and whether their treatment as a unit conforms to the parties' expectations or business understanding or usage."

After carefully reviewing the positions of the parties on this matter, we are constrained to agree with opposer that the mark sought to be registered herein and the previous mark which was involved in the prior proceeding constitute a transaction or series of transactions within the meaning of the Restatement. By applicant's own admission, the new design evolved out of the original design. Moreover, we agree with the opposer that the evidence relating to the issue of likelihood of confusion with respect to the first design would be identical with respect to the second design forming, therefore, a convenient trial unit for purposes of the Restatement, Section 24(2). Accordingly, we conclude that the two designs represent one transaction or a series of connected transactions for purposes of res judicata as that concept is analyzed in the Restatement and we find our judgment in the first opposition operates as claim preclusion so as to bar applicant's application herein. Further, in our view, the changes in the design mark presented herein are so insignificant that even under applicant's theory of the applicability of claim preclusion, we would find this application barred by virtue of the prior judgment. The new design adds the terminology "CASK NO. 32" (which has been disclaimed apart from the mark as a whole) and includes additional sheaves of grain outside the oval design. In our view, the two marks create substantially the same commercial impression and the minor alterations do not rise to the level of a new mark sufficient, under the circumstances, to allow applicant to seek registration herein.

In its answer to the petition for cancellation relevant to the '369 mark, Defendant asserted the affirmative defenses of laches, estoppel, and acquiescence. Furthermore, Defendant claimed to be the prior user of the TREASURE ISLAND mark. See Exhibit 37. These affirmative defenses are now established as being rejected. As stated by this Board, "[b]y earlier judgment, the Board sustained Pro's allegations of priority and confusing similarity and, in effect, denied the validity of Angler's affirmative defense that Pro's mark is a generic designation for the services performed by Pro under the mark. Collateral estoppel is an effective bar to re-litigation of those issues. As to the amended identification of Pro's services, it is the Board's opinion that distributorship services were fully comprehended by the earlier identification. cf. The Toro Company v. Hardigg Industries, Inc., 193 U.S.P.Q. 149 (CCPA 1977)". Bass Anglers Sportsman Society v. Bass Pro Lures, Inc., 200 U.S.P.Q. 819, 822 (TTAB 1978).

The mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT, which was registered for use in connection with hotel services, is established as being confusingly similar to Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark as used in connection with hotel services and casino services. This being the case, Defendant's TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE mark, registered for use in connection with hotel services (Exhibit 4) and registered for use in connection with casino services (Exhibit 3) is, beyond dispute, established as being confusingly similar to Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark as used in connection with those identical services, specifically, hotel services and casino services. TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE is indisputably more similar to Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark than is the TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT mark.

Under the doctrine of res judicata, judgment in Plaintiff's favor is mandated at least with regard to the '396 and '421 registrations.

Additionally, Plaintiff is seeking cancellation of U. S. Reg. No. 2,024,221 on the mark TREASURE ISLAND AT THE MIRAGE THE ADVENTURE RESORT (Exhibit 5), as used in connection with casino services. As discussed above, judgment has been rendered in Plaintiff's favor and against Defendant relevant to this exact mark as used in connection with hotel services. Defendant's mark has been established as being confusingly similar to Plaintiff's TREASURE ISLAND mark as used in connection with hotel and casino services. This being the case, Plaintiff is entitled to judgment relevant to the '221 mark registered for use in connection with casino services.

III. CONCLUSION

For all of the above-stated reasons, Plaintiff respectfully contends that judgment in its favor is mandated with regard to all of the cancellation proceedings and the opposition proceeding at issue in this consolidated proceeding. Orders to this effect are respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

unities.

East of the Mississippi Valley, at least 31 cities reported record or record-tying high temperatures
Wednesday, the third day of unseasonable warmth.

The records included 85 at Baltimore, 75 at Detroit, 76 at Indianapolis and 86 at Washington's National Airport. The high at Indianapolis erased a record on the books since 1875. Buffalo, N.Y., registered 78.

Cherry blossoms in the nation's capital will peak today and Friday because of the unseasonable warmth and will be gone by the April opening of the annual Cherry Blossom Festival, said National Park Service spokeswoman Maria Morris. "They'll only last four or five days," she said.

Tulips, though, are about three weeks ahead of schedule and will flower in time for the cherry blossom festival, she said.

Cold front coming

A cold front was expected to end the record-breaking warm weather tonight.

Fruit farmers in New Jersey fear the heat may have fouled their blueberries, peaches and nectarines into budding before freezing temperatures end.

"The weather is making the peaches say, 'Ooh, isn't it nice,'" said Genie DeCou, who runs a 500-acre peach, nectarine and apple farm in Shiloh.

Thunderstorms in the Midwest dumped heavy rain, which was compounded in Wisconsin by a dam burst on a pond leading to the Trempealeau River. But Arcadia, Wis., Police Chief Patrick Grusz-zelski said the river was receding.

"Everything we've been doing up to this point has been preparing for the worst and, hopefully, that will not happen now," he said.

In Vernon County in west-central Missouri, an 8-year-old boy was found dead Wednesday after falling into one of Missouri's swollen streams.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., Roman Catholic Bishop John Favalora is praying for rain. "I am confident that the Lord will hear our prayers," he said in a message broadcast every hour on the local Catholic

up seeks Darville pardon

in Darville's behalf at a executive pardon or d the request is being the university had investigation of inter-telles at the school.

ort of the investigation
t last week, showing AA violations in wresling and tennis.

Edwards said Darville could have benefitted from the report by showing that mismanagement in university athletics was not limited to sports. Darville was associated with as an aide to blacks and other minorities.

The group also is asking for a review of the circumstances surrounding the delay of the report.
But University of Minnesota attorney Bill Donahue said the report was expected to be released in two parts, partly because the investigator wanted to report on testimony at Darville's trial.

Donald J. Gruenewald, secretary of the pardon board, said the board has not considered the Darville case before so it is unable to "reopen" it if the United Black Front is requesting.

The pardon board has not heard anything from Darville himself, he said.

Valley. Those who work at community centers are supposed to function as the paramedics of social service, stabilizing families in crisis. But more and more, people are turning to them for long-term services. This is something that enters and frightens them.

The government has to pick up the bill, change its spending priorities, be said. When people are hungry and homeless, then I believe it becomes the responsibility of the government to deal with some of these issues.

The center in Apple Valley is feeding an average of 850 families a month from its food bank, said a spokesman. Providing food has grown into an $15,000 annual program at the agency.

The food program numbers began a steady climb about three years ago, according to Brennan. In July 1990, the agency conducted a survey of those applying for food and discovered that 38 percent were employed and earning an average $5.71 an hour. Almost half had no health insurance.

Last spring, the community center's employees noticed that many more people were coming in for food. Most were elderly, and many had no health insurance, and some were in-between. Brennan said the center had been in particular need of help because it was someone he knew.

The was dressed in his suit, dress shirt and tie, but his world had fallen apart, Brennan said. "I said, 'I never thought I would have to do this. I'm a social worker, a lot of pride to say I need a social director."

NICK COLEMAN
 STAFF FOR HUSBAND

Q. I am a 16-year-old boy named Tommy and my brother used to be Jack Morris, the pitcher who helped the Twins win the World Series. Now he has moved to Canada because the Blue Jays will pay him a million or two more than the Twins. My dad says this is O.K. Our baseball is a business and Jack wanted to get as much money as he could screw out of somebody, I say, what in hell is the difference between $13 million and $14 million? I mean, you can only wear one with coat at a time. Why did he do it?

A. Tommy Kelly, Houston, Texas, Minn.

Q. What has gotten into Barbara Carlson, the radio talk show host? In recent weeks (we're not making any of this up) she has 1) begged listeners to bring us a couple of dollars to her radio station so she could use it before a doctor's appointment; 2) announced her husband's death and invited listeners to stop by; 3) threatened her husband's penis implant; 4) asked a spokesman for a hair-growing product whether it could make her public hair thicker, and 5) threatened about taking Prozac to keep her mood swings under control. Please tell me this kind of raunch isn't necessary to stay successful on AM radio.

A. In an age when Oprah, Phil and Geraldo are doing TV shows on subjects such as "Transferring Accidents Who Like to Kill" (for Tax Payers While Strangers Watch), radio has to fight dirty to keep its audience. Barbara Carlson, the building exhibitor who holds down the mid-morning slot at KSAT (AM 1500), is the sort of outspoken bitch (she disavows that a compliment) that AM stations are looking for these days. Sure, there's a chance she might rip off her clothes and run down Highway 61 in her birthday suit, but hey, anyone who was married to Arne Carlson is beyond embarrassment.

Q. How do you rate Arne Carlson's performance during his first year as governor? My father says the guy has been a complete disaster. Isn't it true that a returning number of former Gov. Rudy Perpich's best return in power of Minnesota is just because you are determined to destroy Minnesota just like you have destroyed St. Paul.

A. Arne Carlson is as popular as William Kennedy

Smith at a Take Back the Night Rally and some people are writing him off as a one-term governor. But while it's true the voters have lost confidence in Arne, they haven't lost their minds. The only way Rudy Perpich will see the inside of the governor's office again is if he joins a Capitol tour. As for your belief that we wish to destroy Minnesota, nonsense. It's the usual two-party war of between Democracy and Money World. And we don't even try to pay to see it.

Q. My millions inform me that the state of Minnesota has recognized its obligations to its large and private employees, Northwest Airlines, by approving $135 million in aid. Thank you for flying Northwest as I always did. But I'm not sure I have a question: Who was that little guy I saw sitting state side, David Ippolito after the vote that approved the aid package? Also, we'd like the money in small, unmarked bills. Twenties will be fine.

A. Al Grech, Early, Michigan, Minn.

Q. The guy who was moving Independent, the publican filio of the state was, I think, L. Connerman. Jim the character, an influential Northwest guy, then star was created after the deal was approved and Ippolito, who helped ramrod the deal, got a big piece of the cheese from the grateful Klugean Congressmen. On the cheese from the grateful Klugean Congressmen, Capitol answers say it was the best time a 1971er has given a Republican since Rudy Perpich put.

Q. While preparing my upcoming State address, I came across an obituary I pledged to you today that this administrator committed to all people, particularly those disenfranchised (and those who feel that nothing is real). Please identify the author (and family) but who said it? Was it P.K.?

A. (For Arne Carlson, c/o Northwest Administration Department, Fargo.

Q. St. Paul and Minneapolis. Yelling trouble every day. Drive-by shootings, drug dealing, middle-class families fleeing. When is somebody going to do something about it?

A. Jim & Belinda Don Fraser, Twin Minn.

Q. Most Twin Cities politicians are so not to offend someone that they don't have work on the problems you raise in your letter. But thanks for asking. You can go to sleep now, boys. We'll wake you up at the

"A real Island Paradise right smack in the middle of Minnesota!"

Since 1990, Treasure Island Casino & Bingo has been your favorite place to play and win. But starting this April, we're improving your place for fun, food & entertainment. How could we possibly do that, you ask? Well, we're building a real tropical Island in the middle of Minnesota. We'll be adding lush palm trees. Cascading waterfalls. The most exciting tropical entryway this side of the Caribbean. And much, much more. As we construct our Island, we'll add other surprises, too. A new and improved players' club. New menus. Exciting promotions. Plus, assigned seating in our Indigo Bay Showroom with no lines, no waiting.

During our conversion, our friendly employees will help you with your every request. We're turning Treasure Island into a one-of-a-kind, complete entertainment complex. It's always been hot on the Island. And now, it's about to be downright tropical.

Today, thanks to unprecedented rulings by the United States Supreme Court and Congressional adoption of a series of key policies, Indian bands and tribes have the right to cash in on what appears to be a sure bet for economic growth and stability, both now and in the future. Indians' newfound wealth has come in the form of casino gambling on reservations.

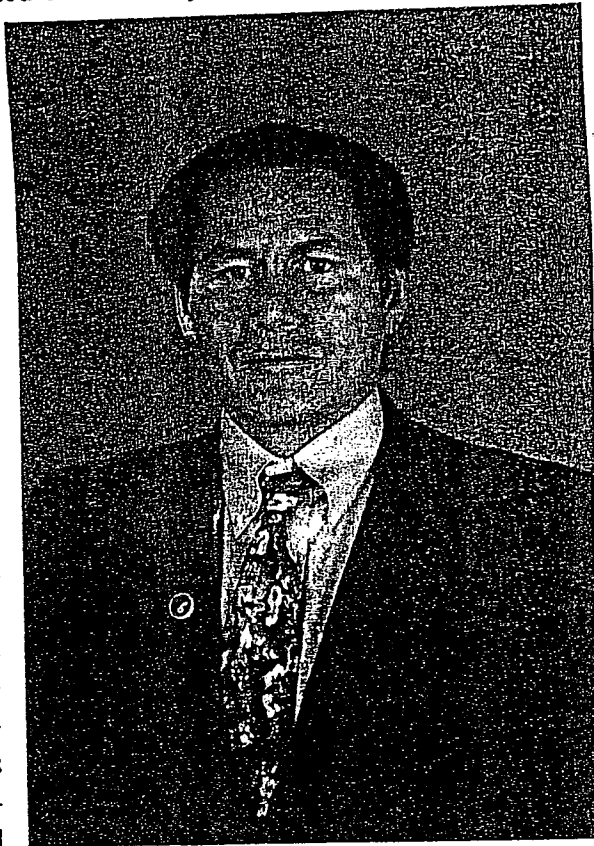

Blackjack, high-stakes bingo, pull-tabs and video slot and poker machines are drawing cards to a multi-million dollar a year industry that exploded with widespread popularity and propelled Indians from the dismal depths of economic despair to the esteemed heights of financial integrity and self-sufficiency.

A member of the Sioux Indian Tribe at the Mdewakanton Prairie Island reservation and public relations director for Treasure Island Casino near Red Wing, Minnesota, John Campbell says financial gain is not the sole profit realized from casino gambling. Indians are enjoying a sense of self-worth that before was rarely felt.

"There's been hundreds of years of poverty and unemployment on Indian reservations, but casino gaming is giving tribal members a sense of pride and self-respect," Campbell says. "The business world is beginning to look at us in a different light. Local banks are actually starting to court us. In the past, they shied away from dealing with the tribes. Finally, we're allowed the opportunity to grow as a people."

The opportunity - or the right as American Indians prefer to call it - for tribal independence and sovereignty was not the result of the luck of the draw. It was the consummation of more than two centuries of clashes with inconsistent and oppressive federal policy. The 19th century Indian policy was based on the idea of assimilation and the reservation system was a means to that end. The right to granting tribes the right to a sovereign, independent existence on reservations.

Leonard Prescott

Indians continued to be the most regulated minority group in American history. They are subject to more than 4,000 compacts, laws, treaties and other agreements. And during some periods in history, Congress forced or coerced Indians from their lands weakening tribal governments and intensifying economic and social problems for Native Americans. 000495

More friendly eras, however, saw Congress adopt policies promoting all phases of tribal independence. A change in federal policy that enabled Congress and Indian tribes to enjoy a more stable and cordial relationship came in 1934 with the adoption of the Indian Reorganization Act (IRA). By encouraging economic development, self-determination and the revival of tribal culture, the IRA broke new ground for the curved and twisted road that ultimately lead to casino gambling on reservations.

The major intent of the IRA was to improve economic conditions for Indians. All along the way, however, Congress continued to set legal precedence for tribes and bands. But in 1953, Congress chose to mutuel betting on horse races and the state lottery. The state's 11 reservations grossed about $400 million last year averaging about $36.3 million per reservation before prizes were awarded. This year reservations are projecting gross receipts around $600 million. By the end of 1992 those figures could reach the billion dollar mark.

Leonard Prescott, chairman of the National Indian Gaming Association and vice-chairman of the Minnesota Indian Gaming Association, couldn't be happier with the economic "win-win" situation in which reservations now find themselves. However, as tribal chairman of the Lower Sioux Shakopee-Mdewakanton Reservation, Prescott approaches the newfound prosperity with guarded optimism. He compares it to venturing into the searing heat of the desert for several days with no water. When an oasis is found the natural impulse is to indulge in the cool, refreshing water too fast in an attempt to satisfy a thirst that before was unquenchable.

Diversified assets will be the link providing Indian tribes today with economic stability and prosperity tomorrow. Prescott believes it's only a matter of time, about eight years in his estimation, before competition for gambling revenues stiffens and possibly squeezes out operations that haven't established an on-going economy.

"We're looking at this as a window of opportunity. It's our objective to get on a level playing field with the state and establish an economy of our own."

~Leonard Prescott

Chairman of the National Indian Gaming Association
Vice-chairman of the Minnesota Indian Gaming Association

"We're looking at this [casino-style gaming] as a window of opportunity," Prescott says. "It's our objective to get on a level playing field with the state and establish an economy of our own. We have a large task ahead of us, one that's not going to be settled in a generation. You just don't all of a sudden correct social ills in your community. But as long as we have an economy, that seed will make it start to happen."

Many tribes in the state already have invested in their future by making full scholarships for college and vocational training and medical, dental and life insurance benefits available to all tribal members. And many tribes have diversified their holdings by investing profits in amenities like hotels, golf courses, marinas and campgrounds. Social programs in communities surrounding reservations are also sharing in the Indians' prosperity. Treasure Island Casino on the Prairie Island Reservation near Red Wing, Minnesota, earmarked some revenues for social programs that benefit children, elderly and handicapped residents in Dakota and Goodhue counties.

"We're finding ways with our newfound wealth to give back to the organizations that have helped us out in the past," says Campbell, Treasure Island's public relations director. "People are starting to look at us in a different light . . . and it's long overdue."

Fun and excitement knows no boundaries

by John Campbell

The present day Treasure Island Casino and Bingo started out in 1983 as a bingo hall called Island Bingo. Bingo games and pull tabs were all that were offered. Island Bingo struggled along, making only marginal profits, until the end of 1989. In 1990, Island Bingo was reorganized and the name was changed to Treasure Island. At this time the bingo hall was divided in half by a glass wall. This division allowed a game similar to blackjack and slot machines to be added. In 1991 Treasure Island extended its hours from 14 to 24 hours a day, and began playing Las Vegas style Blackjack.

Not only were the hours expanded, but so was the building. The expansion, which added 24,000 sq feet, was completed at the end of June. Besides more space, (a total of 45,000 sq feet) second floor offices and a restaurant with banquet facilities were added. To celebrate the occasion, a ten-day grand opening was held in which a brand new car was given away each of the 10 days.

The fun and exciting atmosphere at Treasure Island has created a great demand for this new kind of entertainment. Therefore, Treasure Island is expanding again. This new addition, which began this October, will bring the total square footage to around 70,000 square feet. The added space will allow the current 37 Blackjack tables to increase to 50 and the slot machines will swell from the present 650 to 1000.

The venue of the musical entertainment can only improve with the addition of a new stage that the second expansion will bring.

The culmination of this second expansion (in one year) will be in the spring of 1992. So be on the look out in early 1992 for our new grand opening, which promises to be just as spectacular as the last one.

BLACKJACK

Blackjack is one of the most popular casino table games.

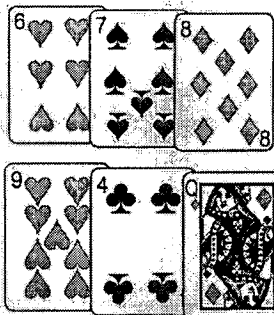

The object of the game is to have your cards total twenty-one or as near to twenty-one as possible without going over. Everyone plays against the dealer (the house) who begins the game by dealing each player two cards and the house one card up and one card down.

Rules

Cards are counted at their face value. Kings, Queens, and Jacks count as ten. Aces count as one or eleven. If the first two cards you are dealt total twenty-one, you have a blackjack. Blackjack pays one and a half times your bet. You cannot lose but you could tie if the dealer also has blackjack.

If you are dealt any combination other than blackjack, you can either "stand" (take no more cards), or signal the dealer for a "Hit" (draw additional cards). Remember, the objective is to get twenty-one or as close to twenty-one as possible without going over. You also want your hand to be closer to twenty-one than the dealer's hand. If your card count is closer to twenty-one than the dealer's hand, you win; if it is less, the house wins. If you tie with the dealer, you "push" (nobody wins and nobody loses).

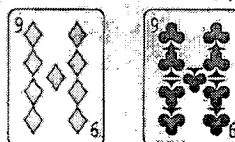

If you should go over twenty-one ("bust") you immediately lose. After each player takes his turn the dealer turns up his hidden card. If the dealer has sixteen or less, he must "hit" (draw additional cards), until he reaches seventeen or more. If the dealer "busts" he must pay all the players still in the game.

Options

Blackjack players have all the options, the house has none.

Splitting Pairs

If you are dealt two cards with equal value, you have the option of "splitting" them into two separate hands. You must match your original bet if you "split." You may "split" a pair up to three times (making four separate hands). You can take as many "hits" as you like on each hand. If you "split" a pair of aces, you will receive only one card on each of the hands, but if one of the "hit" cards is another ace, you may re-split.*

Doubling Down

Players also have the option of increasing their wager by "doubling down." After receiving your first two cards, you may "double down" by increasing your wager up to the amount of your original bet and receive only one additional card. You may "double down" on any two cards. You may also "double down" after "splitting" a pair.

Insurance

If the dealer's "up" card is an ace, you have the option of making an "insurance" wager. You may wager any amount up to half your original wager that the dealer's down card has a value of ten. If the card has a value of ten, you win and will be paid two to one on your insurance wager. If the card has a value other than ten, you lose and the dealer takes your insurance bet.

*Only applies to blackjack games dealt from a shoe.

Craps is an exciting, action-packed game. Here are some basics to get you started.

One player, known as the "shooter" throws the dice. All wagers must be placed before the shooter throws the dice. The types of wagers that can be made are:

Pass Line: An even money bet. On the "come out" roll (the first roll) you win on a natural seven or eleven, or lose on "craps" (two, three, or twelve). Any other number rolled is your "point," and you must throw your point again before a seven to win.

Don't Pass Line: Opposite of the Pass Line. You lose on natural seven or eleven on the first roll. You win on two or three (twelve is a tie). You lose after the first roll if the shooter makes his point. You win after the first roll if the shooter rolls a seven before making his point.

Come Bets: Made any time after the first roll when a shooter has a point to make. You win on natural seven or eleven and lose on craps (two, three, or twelve). Any number that comes up is a "come point" and must be thrown before a seven is thrown.

Don't Come Bets: Opposite of the come bet, except that a first roll of two or three wins, and twelve is a tie, and you lose on natural seven or eleven. Any other number thrown is the "come point" and you lose if the come point is made before a seven is thrown.

Odds: Once a point is made on the first roll or a come point on a succeeding roll, you may take the odds and win if the point or come points are made before a seven. Payoffs are: two-to-one on four and ten, three-to-two for five and nine, six-to-five on six and eight. "Don't Pass" or "Don't come" bets are in reverse: you must lay the odds in order to win.

Place Bets: Once a shooter makes a point, you may make a "Place Bet" on numbers four, five, six, eight, nine, and ten. If the shooter rolls any of these numbers before a seven you win the following payoffs: nine-to-five on four and ten, seven-to-five on five and nine, and seven-to-six on six and eight. A "Place Bet" may be taken off any time before the next roll.

Field Bets: A one-roll bet. You win even money on three, four, nine, ten and eleven. You win two-to-one on two. You win three-to-one on twelve. You lose on five, six, seven or eight.

Proposition Bets: One-roll bets. Two or twelve pays 31 for 1. "Any Craps" (two, three, or twelve) pays eight-for-one. Three or eleven pays sixteen-for-one.

Hardways: You win if the number comes up exactly as on the table, lose if the number comes up any other way, or if a seven is thrown.

ROULETTE

ROULETTE

Roulette is fun and easy to play.

The Roulette Wheel is marked with numbers 1 through 36 and the symbols "0" and "00." The numbers are alternately colored red and black, and the "0" and "00" are green. Color and number combinations offer a variety of betting options. Wagers can be placed on individual numbers or groups of numbers.

Roulette chips are different from other casino chips. Each player receives a different color chip and decides the value of the chip when they are purchased. Roulette chips may only be purchased in stacks of twenty. For example, if you would like your roulette chips to be worth $1 each, then you would purchase a stack for $20.

While bets are being placed, the dealer spins the roulette ball in the opposite direction of the spinning wheel. Bets may be placed until the dealer announces "no more bets" as the ball begins to drop. When the ball falls into a number on the roulette wheel, the dealer places a marker on the winning number on the table layout and pays the winning bets.

The adjoining diagram indicates the payoffs for single chip bets and the many combination available.

KENO

Keno is a very simple game to play. Each keno ticket is numbered from one to eighty. These numbers correspond to the numbered balls in the keno bowl from which twenty numbers are randomly selected during each game.

To play keno you simply mark one to twenty numbers on a blank keno ticket, and designate the amount you wish to wager in the space indicated on the ticket. Present this ticket with your wager to a keno writer or runner and you will receive a copy of your ticket. Retain this ticket because if you win, it must be presented for payment.

When each game begins, the selected numbers will be displayed on keno boards located throughout the casino. Compare your copy with the numbers displayed on the keno boards.

If you are a winner, present your ticket immediately to a keno writer or runner.

Treasure Island also offers Sail Away Keno, which enables keno enthusiasts to play up to one thousand games! If you play one to twenty games, you must collect your winnings immediately after your last game is run. If you play twenty-one games or more on Sail Away Keno tickets, you have a full year to collect your winnings. Just mark your tickets, pay for the games, and call us at (702) 894-7274 for the results.

Keno may be played in almost every area of the casino. Relax in the Keno Lounge, or play while you enjoy cocktails or dine in the Lookout Cafe. Keno runners do not run the Buffet (Sail Away Keno suggested).

MINI BACCARAT

There are three different wagers in Mini Baccarat:

- 1 The Player Pays Even Money
- 2 The Bank Pays Even Money less 5% Commission
- 3 The Tie Pays 9 for 1

Two cards are dealt for both sides, the Player and the Bank, with the Player always acted upon first, throughout the game. If the rules call for a third card, either or both sides must take this third card.

The value of each hand is the last digit of the sum of the Cards. Example:  $10 + 4 + 9 = 23$ :

The value of this hand is 3 (last digit of number 23). The hand with the largest value wins.

In case of a tie, only wagers placed on the tie win 9 for 1; the Player's and the Bank's wagers are played over.

PLAYER

When Player's First Two Cards Total:

- 0 through 5 - Player gets a third card
- 6 or 7 - Player does not get a third card
- 8 or 9 - Neither the Player or the Bank, gets a third card.

BANK

The Bank plays under the same rules as the Player, except when the Bank's two cards total 3, 4, 5, or 6, and the Player took a third card.

IN THAT EVENT THE EXCEPTIONS ARE:

When Bank's First Two Cards Total	Bank Takes a Third Card if Third Card of the Player
3	Is not an 8
4	Is 2 through 7
5	Is 4 through 7
6	Is 6 or 7

PAI GOW

Pai Gow is an intriguing game brought to Nevada from the Orient. The game is played with three-dimensional cards or dominoes. The dealer shuffles the dominoes, and then rolls three dice. The total of the dice determines which player receives the first set of dominoes. Four dominoes are dealt to each player, each vacant player position on the table, and to the dealer. Each player creates two hands with the four dominoes, a high hand and second high hand. The object of the game is to create two hands which are both higher than the bank hand. If both hands are higher than the bank hands, the player wins. If one hand is higher and the other is lower, it is a tie. If both of the player's hands are lower than the bank hands, the player loses. Both the dealer and the players take turns being the bank. The bank is rotated after each round of play.

On request, the house dealer will explain the rankings and assist you in arranging your hands but is not responsible for wins or losses. Payoffs are even money and the house collects a 5% commission on all winnings wagers. Should you require additional information about the game of Pai Gow, brochures are available in the casino.

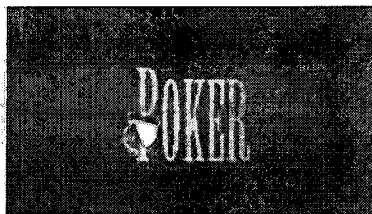

Pai Gow Poker combines elements of the ancient Chinese game of Pai Gow and the American game of poker. It is played with a traditional deck of 52 playing cards plus one joker. The joker is used only as an ace, or to complete a straight, a flush, or a straight flush.

The dealer starts a game by rolling three dice. The total of the dice determines which player receives the first set of cards. Each player receives seven cards and creates two hands simultaneously, a high hand and a second high hand. Both hands must be higher than the bank hands to win. If one hand is higher and the other is lower, it is a tie. If both of the player's hands are lower than the bank hands, the player loses. The player's high hand is made up of five cards and the second high hand is made up of two cards. Pai Gow Poker is essentially playing two separate poker hands according to traditional poker rankings.

The house dealer will explain the rankings and assist you in arranging your hands but is not responsible for wins or losses.

Payoffs are even money and the house collects a 5% commission on all winning wagers.

One of the most popular casino areas is the live-action poker room. Whether you are a beginning poker player or an avid veteran player, you will find plenty of action in Treasure Island's poker room. We offer a variety of limits of Seven Card Stud, Texas Hold'em, and Omaha Hold'em. Our professional staff will assist you to the game of your choice.

Seven Card Stud: Each player receives a total of three down cards and four upcards. The best five card poker hand* wins the pot.

Texas Hold'em: Each player receives two down cards. The dealer deals a total of five community cards in the middle of the table. Each player uses their best five card poker hand.*

Omaha Hold'em: This game is a variation of Texas Hold'em where each player receives a total of four down cards rather than two (like in Texas Hold'em). Each player MUST use two cards of the four from their hand and three of the five community cards to make their best five card poker hand*

Mirage Resorts Plans Family Hotel in Vegas

■ Gaming: The $300-million Treasure Island complex is expected to intensify competition in Nevada's biggest entertainment oasis.

By GEORGE WHITE
TIMES STAFF WRITER

Mirage Resorts Inc. said Tuesday that it will build a $300-million family oriented themed resort in Las Vegas, escalating the fight for family business in the Nevada gaming and adult entertainment oasis.

The Las Vegas-based company, which owns the Golden Nugget casinos in Las Vegas and Laughlin, Nev., said its latest mega-casino—to be called Treasure Island—will have 3,000 guest rooms and will be located adjacent to the Mirage, the firm's flagship casino and resort.

The new resort is expected to open in mid-1994, Mirage Resorts said.

The company joins a long list of gaming firms entering the burgeoning family entertainment market in a city once viewed as an adults-only vacation spot. Circus Circus Enterprises Inc. in June, 1990, opened the Excalibur, a 4,000-room hotel and casino that has a medieval theme and offers substantial non-gaming entertainment. Circus Circus is expected to announce soon that it plans to build yet another property.

In addition, MGM Grand Inc., which is controlled by Beverly Hills investor Kirk Kerkorian, this month began construction on a $600-million, 112-acre complex in Las Vegas that will include a 5,000-room hotel and a theme park.

The Mirage Resorts announcement is another sign of changing times in Las Vegas, said Manny Cortez, executive director of Las Steve Wynn announces plans for new resort called Treasure Island.

Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority.

"Because of the proliferation of gaming around the country, the local casinos have decided that they can survive only by expanding and diversifying to attract a broader [spectrum] of people," Cortez said.

However, the building boom is expected to create a competitive shakeout in Las Vegas. The city has about 77,000 hotel rooms, a 20% increase over the past two years. With just the announced expansion plans, Las Vegas would have an additional 10,000 rooms by 1994, said Willard Brown, a gaming industry analyst at Dean Witter Reynolds in New York.

"The smaller casinos and the casinos with weaker management are going to face some tough times," Brown said. "By 1994, a number of casinos will be barely hanging on, some will be purchased by larger operations and some will head into bankruptcy."

However, some casinos are already feeling the competitive pressure. The hotel occupancy rate thus far in 1991 is 80%, compared to 86% for the same period in 1990. Casino revenue growth in 1991 is about 3%, compared to about 10% a year earlier, said Walter Tyminski, an industry analyst who contributes to Resort Management Report, a trade journal published in Midlothian, Va.

"Besides [new] construction business has never recovered from the downturn that occurred during [the Gulf War] and slowdown in the economy," Tyminski said.

However, Mirage Resorts Chairman Steve Wynn said Treasure Island will allow his company to enter the lucrative lower-priced, family-oriented market. Room rates at the new property will average $40 a night, he said. The Mirage, a 3,000-room, $630-million hotel and casino that opened in November, 1989, caters to the upper end of the market, with rooms averaging $120 a night.

Some major casino stocks dropped in Wall Street trading after the Mirage announcement. In New York Stock Exchange composite trading, Mirage closed at $24.50, down $1.50. In other Big Board trading, Circus Circus fell $1.25, closing at $34.125, while Hilton slipped 12.5 cents to $42.375. However, Caesars gained 87.5 cents to close at $32.375.
